

The Convo Creator provides 40 days of conversation starters for you and your girl. Many of these questions were taken from conversations with my own girls. Some of the questions are just for fun to get to know each other; others are meant to open doors to deeper conversations. Both kinds of questions will help to bring you and your girl into a closer, deeper relationship! Girls may also like to pick some of these to use with their best friends, mentors, grandmas, or whoever they like!

Take the question cards below, cut them apart, and put them in a jar or cute vase. For the next 40 days, take out one per day and get to know each other better! Enjoy!

*Blank cards are also included so you can write your own questions, if you like.
